

In the future, play will be what we all live on. The most important resources will be imagination, creativity and the ability to bring forth things. Let the power of the imagination take over!

Beacon Winther 2013

We guarantee children will love it. Our quality is second to none complying with all current safety standards. However the greatest testament to our quality is the fact that Children throughout the world have been testing Winther trikes and cycles for many years - this is the best guarantee of the quality of the Winther concept.
